The Massachusetts Bar Association has formed the Energy and Environment Task Force, comprised of a dozen lawyers from across the state, who will oversee the MBA Lawyers Eco-Challenge, the organization said on Thursday.

Among the task force members is Susan Reid, a staff attorney and director of the Massachusetts Clean Energy and Climate Change Initiative for the Conservation Law Foundation in Boston. Reid will serve as the the co-chair of the task force along with Nancy Reiner, a partner at Brown Rudnick in Boston.

"I am so pleased that we are partnering with the Conservation Law Foundation to promote energy conservation and environmental consciousness among the Massachusetts legal community," said David White, president of the MBA, in a statement. "Together, we can make a significant impact by reducing energy use and resource consumption."
