

Why do you Walk to the Hill for Civil Legal Aid?

To support the Massachusetts Legal Assistance Corporation's request for a $23 million state investment in civil legal aid, we are asking attorneys and advocates to share why they value civil legal aid and equal justice for all. Even if you can't join us at the State House on January 25th, we'd love to see your photo and message in support of civil legal aid.

It's very easy to participate!

Step 1

Think about why civil legal aid is a critical support for individuals, families, and communities across the Commonwealth. Write your message on the "I walk..." placard (or any blank sheet of paper, if you can't print the placard).

Great examples we've seen so far include 'I walk...so everyone can access justice.'; 'I walk...to give a voice to the vulnerable.'; and 'I walk...because justice is a right, not a luxury.'

Step 2

Once you've written your message, have a friend or colleague take a photo of you holding your placard.

Step 3

Share the photo on Twitter or Facebook using the hashtag #IWalkforJustice. Don't use social media? Not a problem—email your photo to crizos@mlac.org.

Thank you very much for your support.
